Cuban motion is used throughout the Cha Cha, except on movements where it would give an unpleasant appearance or an uncomfortable feeling. A slightly more staccato movement of the hips is characteristic of the Cha Cha.

- JULY/AUGUST: FOXTROT

- The Bronze Foxtrot is a progressive and turning dance, moving along the line of dance. The steps used in the Bronze Syllabus are taken with body flight and are designed for the larger ballroom floor, however, these same steps are also suited to the average night club floor when danced more compactly. Sway and slight rise and fall highlight the smooth style of the American Bronze Foxtrot.
